DEATH NOTICES

LEVIN

Marvin Levin, 90, who grew the hardware and appliance store that his father, Harry Levin had started into the Levin's Furniture & Appliances died Sunday night at the Abramson Center for Jewish Life. A long-time resident of Elkins Park, he previously had a home in Ventnor NJ and presently in Boynton Beach FL. He graduated from Northeast High School in 1944 while working in his parent's hardware and housewares store after school and on weekends. He lived in an apartment above the store on Kensington Ave where the elevated train frequently roared past his window. After graduation, he started college at the University of Pennsylvania, but left after one year to join the Navy during World War II. He was honorably discharged from the Navy in 1946 and returned to the Wharton School at Penn to finish his bachelor's degree. Following college he went into his father's business full time, which by then, had expanded into a department store selling appliances and furniture. He helped grow and expand the business by adding 12 additional stores throughout the Philadelphia and New Jersey areas and offered credit to customers long before standard credit cards became common. Levin's Furniture became a well-known name in the area, and Marvin enjoyed the frenzied pace of retailing business, especially the Christmas shopping season. In his early 60's, he retired from the business to pursue other business interests, including doing small residential real estate development. He married Stefani Lundy in 1957 and enjoyed 60 years of happy marriage together. He was an avid golfer, tennis player and swimmer. He was a member of Meadowlands Country Club, Ashbourne Country Club and Logan Tennis Club. He also loved to travel. He and his wife Stefani, took frequent trips to distant countries, some of them very adventuresome. They also traveled to Israel many times, including the beloved Mission 1000 trip. Marvin has been involved in numerous charities and community activities. He has served on the board of trustees of Jewish Federation of Greater Philadelphia, was a board member of the Abramson Center for Jewish Life, and a Board Member of Boys Town Jerusalem. He has also been a long-time member of Adath Jeshurun Synagogue. He has continued his parents reputation for "giving back" to the community and has always been a generous supporter of good causes with both his time and his money. He is survived by his wife, Stefani, his son, Adam, (daughter-in-law Caren), two granddaughters, Jessica and Sarah, and sister, Cissie Vizak Frantz.
