HYMAN

Walter Hyman, July 8, 2020, age 96 of Villanova, PA. Walter was born Nathan Walter Hyman in December of 1923 to two loving parents, Jacob and Rose, and his sisters, Lily and Lee. His family had only recently left Russia for the US in search of a better life, Jacob leading the way alone, and establishing a home in Dalton, Georgia, before Rose and Lily began their epic journey to America when Lily was 1 year old. Dalton was a small city but its factory supplied the majority of carpet in the US and Jacob found an income selling clothing to factory workers. While living in Dalton, Jacob and Rose gave birth to Walter their third child 11 years after Lee and 15 years after Lily. Walter was incredibly proud of his family's guts, ingenuity and originality and often thought of these principles in his own life's practices. He was excited by technology, globalization and the future but was weary of corruption of power as his parents endured persecution in Russia under Rasputin and the Cossacks. At 18 years of age he joined the Army air Corps where he became the lead navigator, flying a B-17 over 36 missions. When the war ended, he attended college at St. Joseph's University in Philadelphia to pursue a career in medicine only to face financial barriers and discrimination. Frustrated but determined to succeed, he decided to learn the plumbing distribution business that he grew to become US Supply. Walter was very busy building a business but finally found some time for romance and fell in love with his wife to be, Rita Pearlstein. He wrote to her while he lived in Wilmington, Delaware and she, Camden NJ. They married and started a beautiful family in the Philadelphia suburbs with their children Andrea, Laurie and Douglas. His children reflect fondly on their childhood filled with adventure and creativity. Walter was an attentive father, had incredible work ethic, a twinkle in his eye when he would kibitz and was well liked by all who knew him. Sarcastic to the very end, he always tried to impart wisdom with a sense of humor and never got caught up in his own self-importance. As his grandchildren became adults, he was so proud of what each of them had already achieved and excited for them to chart their own individual paths and command their own diverse fields always asking, "Is there a path to move up?" He is survived and will be missed by his daughters, Andrea Friedberg and Laurie Sullivan, his son Doug Hyman and six grandchildren and two great grandchildren. In lieu of flowers, contributions in his memory may be made to Mazon: A Jewish Response to Hunger (www.mazon.org) or Children of Fallen Patriots (www.fallenpatriots.org).

DEATH NOTICES

A man of exceptional character,
Marty Isadore at age 96

ISADORE

Martin (Marty) Isadore, an accomplished traveler, inspiring educator, and loving father, has left us, leaving this world a poorer place. Marty lived a life no fiction writer would have dared to invent. A WWII veteran, he was editor of the Attu Morning Sun and helped to start the first USO. An extraordinary man, he wrote plays and comedy for New York entertainers, flew the world over as a courier, and taught hundreds of students how to succeed. Let's throw in being married to a soulmate, his wife Evelyn. Despite passing away in Texas, he felt proud to have lived most of his life in Philadelphia. A true charmer, his gift was to make others feel valued. He never knew what it was to be too old or too tired to do anything. Marty's secret to a happy life was an uninkable spirit – one that eagerly looked forward to the next adventure.

MAYER

Richard A. Mayer has died after a valiant three year fight against colon cancer. He fought the disease until May 2020 when his doctors told him that the chemo therapy was no longer working and he would not survive a more potent formula. At that time he was put into the Snowline hospice care program. Richard is tremendously grateful to the Snowline staff for their great care and gave him relief in his time of need. Richard served in the U.S. Navy shortly after WWII and was called up again during the Korean conflict. Richard was fortunate enough to have served state-side during both tours of duty. He served in the Navy as a radio operator and aircraft machine gun operator but managed to visit many places in the U.S. during his service including the, then territory, of Hawaii. Richard was born and raised in Philadelphia and his initial business experience was in electrical supply and lighting. He took a regional sales position with Lithonia in 1962 relocating his family to Los Angeles, CA. Richard started in the toy industry in 1966 when he accepted a job as national sales manager with plastic model company, Revell, Inc. He was later recruited and hired by Mattel Toys in 1969 as Director, National Accounts and was later promoted to Director of Marketing, Toys. Richard enjoyed some of Mattel's strongest years. ## MINKOFF

Paul Minkoff, 92, passed away peacefully in his home of 50 years in Glenside, PA on July 20th, from complications after a surgical procedure in early June. Paul was born in the Germantown section of Philadelphia to Abraham Minkoff, a Russian immigrant and Anna (Smith) Minkoff, a Philadelphia native and one of the first registered nurses in the city. He was in the Central High School Class of 185 and, prior to the Coronavirus pandemic, had lunch with several classmates every month at Scoogi's in Flourtown. Paul attended Villanova University on a work-study scholarship, graduating with a degree in Economics in 1950. He then did financial work for a business during the day while attending Temple University School of Law at night. Upon graduation in 1954, Paul entered the Army as a member of the XVIII Airborne Corps and was honorably discharged in 1956. He then returned to Philadelphia to begin his law career and became involved with Germantown Jewish Centre and the Young Leadership Council. He met the late Hilda Bressler at a Young People's League of the United Synagogue of America convention in Atlantic City and they married in November of 1957. A year later, they moved to Asheville, NC so that Paul could take a break from the law and become the controller for textile company owned by the family of one of his Army buddies. He and Hilda returned to Philadelphia in 1962 so that Paul could join the law firm of Klovsky, Kuby and Harris. He became a partner and was the last surviving member, not retiring until his mid-80s. During his career, Paul continued to be very active with Germantown Jewish Centre, becoming president in 1971 at 43 years old; at the time, the youngest ever to hold the position. He also got involved in local Democrat politics, running for commissioner of Glenside and, in 1980, for State Representative for the 154th legislative district against the long-time incumbent. Paul managed to capture more than 40% of the vote in what was then a predominately Republican district. Paul then began many years of service to the Jewish and legal communities in Philadelphia. In 1983, he chaired the Memorial for Six Million Jewish Martyrs and continued to organize future events. In 1984, Paul co-chaired the Israel Independence Day Celebration. From 1984 to 1996, he was the treasurer of the School District Authority of Cheltenham Township. From 1985 to 1988, Paul was the Assistant Secretary of the Philadelphia Bar Association after serving three years on the its Board of Governors and chairing Bench Bar conferences. Then in 1988, Paul became the president of the Jew-

She was a member of the Delaware County Chorus, which toured Europe. She was a musician, and played the violin in the Landsdowne Symphony for ten years. She was an artist, and many of her paintings are hung of the walls of family and friends and at the Martins Run Art Gallery. Her volunteer work was extensive. After her retirement, she volunteered as a kindergarten aide at Friends Central School for eleven years. She served as a parachaplain for Jewish Family Service and assisted many residents of the WEL nursing home. At the former Martins Run, she headed the welcoming committee for many years. She received a grant to teach English to the housekeeping staff. Pearl Sand was lovingly referred to as "The Mayor of Martins Run." Pearl Sand will be memorialized on Sunday, July 5 at 1:00 p.m. at Mt. Jacob Cemetery, Glenolden. Rabbi Merle Crean will officiate. Donations in Pearl's memory may be made to the Sand Family Fund at Beth El Temple, 2637 North Front St. Harrisburg, PA 17110.

SAVITZ

Samuel J. Savitz, Bala Cynwyd, PA (1936 - 2020). Born in West Philadelphia in 1936, the son of Russian immigrants, Sam attended West Philadelphia High School and Temple University with concentrations in business and actuarial science. He was recognized early in his career as one of the country's preeminent employee benefits and pension actuaries. He is past president of the American Society of Pension Actuaries and in 2009 the Society conferred a lifetime achievement award for outstanding contributions to the industry. In 1964 Sam founded a benefits consulting firm bearing his name, later acquired by the accounting firm, Laventhol & Horwath, and ultimately emerging again from Laventhol as an independent company, from which Sam retired in 1994, and which retained his name for nearly another 25 years until the firm was acquired by C-BIZ, a national accounting and consulting firm in 2018. Following a distinguished professional career, Sam turned his attention to educational enrichment for another decade, auditing art history and music courses at the University of Pennsylvania, and taking drawing and sculpting courses (Sam also took boxing lessons and learned how to throw a curveball!). In retirement, Sam embarked on a lengthy second career of civic and community engagement and philanthropy, serving as a supporter, trustee and respected thought leader of many venerable Philadelphia arts and cultural organizations, including The Philadelphia Orchestra, The Philly Pops, The Mann Music Center, the Pennsylvania Academy of Fine Arts, The National Liberty Museum and the National Museum of American Jewish History, among others, and Sam was appointed a Senior Fellow of the Foreign Policy Research Institute in 2003. Sam's tenure as a trustee or trustee emeritus of several of these organizations included periods during which the organizations were especially challenged by decreased public funding and increasing competition for philanthropic gifts. Sam is survived, and will be greatly missed, by his beloved wife of 62 years, Selma (Goldberg); by his children, Jacque Stern (Eric), Steven Savitz, and Michelle McCormack; by his beloved grandchildren Justin (Chelsey), Daniel, Julia, Ryan, and Dylan; and by his new great-granddaughter, Sofia. Services were held privately at historic West Laurel Hill Cemetery. In lieu of flowers, the family suggests contributions to any of the organizations to which Sam devoted his time and support, or to another not-for-profit of your choosing.

She and her husband of 60 years traveled the world extensively and this love of exploring the word and its many cultures and sights led her to become a part-time travel agent for 25 years. ## WILLIAMSON

Beth Spitalny Williamson, age 57 of Gladwyne, PA passed away at her home in Kiawah Island, South Carolina on Thursday, July 16th 2020. She will forever be remembered for her passion, humor, generosity and energy. Beth had a substantial impact on the lives of many children and their families. She was an accomplished pediatric occupational therapist earning both her master's degree and her PhD. Beth had a very rewarding position at Albany Med Neonatal Intensive Care, where her expertise and experience was greatly valued. She was an educator and advisor to numerous students at Russel Sage college where she taught and mentored both undergraduate and graduate students. She started her own clinic, Fiesta Pediatric Therapy, where she oversaw treatment of more than 200 children every week. Fiesta was considered one of the most progressive and effective pediatric practices in all of Arizona due to Beth's conscientious oversight and hands on approach that she instilled in the entire staff. In addition to her contributions to education and to the treatment of severely disabled children, she generously devoted her time to the SPOON Foundation, teaching others proper therapy and feeding techniques for children in orphanages that she visited in India, Vietnam and China. Beth was a certified Pilates instructor, avid interior decorator and talented seamstress. She would tell you, however, that the most important job of all was being a mother to her two boys, Jacob (31) and Samuel (28) Spitalny. She was an incredibly devoted and loving mother and could be found on the sidelines of every single soccer game and ski race as the boys' biggest fan. She exuded thoughtfulness in everything she did; from stocking the refrigerator with everyone's favorite foods to patching Sam's favorite T-shirt so he could continue to wear it. She had a keen eye for organization and had the unique ability to make any space feel like home. There was nothing Beth would not do for her boys. Beth's friends and family will miss the way she could make everyone laugh. Her quick wit and often wildly inappropriate sense of humor had the ability to make any situation funny. Her humor especially shined when she was in the presence of her two best friends, Suzanne and Angela. Beth is survived by her two sons, Jacob (Annie Darves) and Samuel Spitalny; her mother, Toba Coren; her identical twin sister, Lauren Sara; her sisters, Ruth Sklut and Rebecca Ynocencio; her step sisters, Jamie Herrschaft and Phyllis Bergmaier; her step-brother Steve Coren; her former husband and best friend, Peter Spitalny; as well as her former husband, Randy Williamson. She is predeceased by her cherished father, Herman Coren. Although Beth would humbly say, she "doesn't know left from right"; she was an incredibly intelligent and accomplished woman. She left her mark on this world by touching the lives of many and always prioritizing others' needs in front of her own. We know she had even more to give, and although her journey ended too soon, her family takes solace in knowing that she is finally at peace. Those wishing to remember Beth in a way that would be truly meaningful to her would be to make a donation to the Neonatal Intensive Care Unit at Albany Medical Center, 43 New Scotland Avenue, Albany, NY 12208 or the Children's Hospital of Philadelphia, 3401 Civic Center Boulevard, Philadelphia 19104.

WOOD

Martin Wood, 84, born October 5, 1935, passed away early Tuesday morning after an extended illness. Marty will be remembered for his honesty, integrity, and character. Marty was proud to have been born in Atlantic City and did not venture too far during his lifetime. Marty attended Atlantic City High School and then Temple University, where he earned a degree in Business. Marty returned every summer to take his place on his life-guard stand on the Atlantic City beach. Even as Marty knew the end was near, he would look at his prize possession: a framed ACBP jacket hanging on the wall in the apartment, and express his fondness for his days as a member of the Atlantic City Beach Patrol. In college, Marty was a member of Pi Lambda fraternity, and served as its Social Chairman. Marty loved to tell stories of his college days at the fraternity and kept in touch with his "brothers" over the years. After college, Marty served in the U.S. Army. Marty worked in military intelligence and was part of a group of soldiers who helped integrate the schools in Little Rock, Arkansas. Marty received an honorable discharge and came back to Atlantic City to help run the family pawnshop. Marty's roommate in college introduced him to the love of his life, Golda. Upon return from the service, Marty popped the question and Golda and Marty moved to Margate to raise a family. Golda stood by Marty's side until the very end. Marty and Golda enjoyed a loving, loyal, and protective relationship, lasting almost 60 years. Golda was Marty's friend, confidante and organizer. Golda made the plans and Marty showed up. Together they had two sons, Jonathan and Eric. Jonathan predeceased Marty in 2001. Marty was blessed with a loving daughter-in-law, Antoinette, and two grandchildren, Rachel and Riley. Marty loved his grandchildren, and especially enjoyed spending time with them on the beach. Marty was charitable with his time as well as his finances, and served on various committees for several organizations during his lifetime. Marty rose to leadership positions in several of those organizations. Marty was Commodore of the Margate City Yacht Club, and President of Beth Israel Synagogue. Marty, like his father Irwin, was also proud to be a Mason. Marty was known as being a quiet listener, but when he spoke people usually listened. Marty loved his pawnshop. "Woody", as he was affectionately known, knew most of his customers by name and helped many of them through tough times. For Marty, the pawnshop was more than a livelihood; it was what he was meant to do. Marty would tell stories of the origins of pawn brokering and understood how to operate the complex business. Marty knew the secret to the business: value items so you can resell them for a profit and never fall in love with the merchandise. Marty, a certified member of the Gemological Institute of America could appraise a diamond on a customer's finger as they walked in the door. Marty had an uncanny ability to know the value of just about any piece of jewelry and musical instrument. Marty was also a wizard when it came to math, and could figure out interest in his head. Maybe the thing Marty loved most about his business was that he could have his dog with him all day. Marty loved dogs and always had a big one by his side in the shop. The family would like to thank Eddie and Ian Pullman. These two were by Marty's side for many years in the shop. Marty always looked upon Ian as family, and trusted Ian to run the business after Marty became ill. We would also like to thank Candice Brown for her help and companionship during these trying times. Due to the Covid 19 pandemic, the funeral will be private. In lieu of flowers, please feel free to make a donation in Martin's Memory to Jewish Family Service of Atlantic and Cape May County, 607 Jerome Ave, Margate City, NJ 08402 or Beth Israel Synagogue, 2501 Shore Rd, Northfield, NJ 08225.
