He was raised in Tel-Aviv. He served as a sergeant in the Israeli Defense Forces in the heavy artillery unit. In 1962, he married Tamar Löw, and together they had two daughters, Ronit and Tali. Uzi earned a B.A. and an M.A. degree in the complementary fields of Bible, Hebrew Literature and Education, at the Hebrew University of Jerusalem. GRAY

Donald Gray, the most remarkable Zayda, devoted father and adoring husband, died on Tuesday at his home in East Norriton, surrounded by the love of his family after a long and fulfilled life. He was 92. Born on Jan. 6, 1920, in Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, to the late Jack and Anna Gray, Don was one of four siblings. He was predeceased by his brother, Seymour, and is survived by his younger sisters, Lillian Garbus of Philadelphia, and Beatrice Steponate of Chicago, and by many cousins, nieces and nephews. Don was predeceased by his wife of 59 years, Bettyanne Gray (Abramson), with whom he enjoyed a storybook romance throughout their marriage. He is survived by his children: son, Ellis Gray (Donna) of Holland, Pa.; daughter, Heidi Gray-Devita (Angelo) of Lower Gwynedd, Pa.; and daughter, Debi Gray of Plymouth Meeting, Pa.; and his seven grandchildren: Charles Devita (Heather), Aaron Gray, Jacob Gray, Elizabeth Phillips (Evan), and Mason Gray. Don lived simply and fully, always content with his lot in life. He needed little for himself, yet gave so much to his wife, his children, and his community. His life was defined by love of family, tireless hard work and service to others. A proud Marine, who also served as a cook in the U.S. Army, Don was a familiar sight sporting his red "Once a Marine" baseball cap. For Don, work wasn't just his livelihood, it was his vocation. He owned Northeast Sales and Service, a heating and air-conditioning company serving the Philadelphia area for over 50 years. He was the first contractor to bring air-conditioning to the residential market in Philadelphia. He earned the loyalty and affection of all of his customers, who would tell stories of his character and commitment: the time he ducked out of High Holiday services to repair the synagogue's AC system; the Sunday morning when he fixed the neighbor's AC unit to keep the shiva house cool; how he provided services to dozens of Russian Jewish immigrants without ever sending a bill. He served as a Vice President of Adath Tikvah Synagogue, formerly Rhawnhurst Jewish Community Center. He volunteered with his wife to help recent Russian immigrants learn English and adapt to life in the US for over a decade. Don continued serving others later in life, as he delivered food to the homebound for the JRA. A member of the SAR Fraternity, he cherished his lifelong friendships with "the guys." For more than 70 years, the SAR brothers met regularly to play cards, grab lunch at a deli, and celebrate happy occasions. "Zayda" Don was also affectionately known as "The Latka Man," as he loved to make his famous latkes for family, friends and scores of students over the years. He enjoyed music and singing through his final days. He was a man of few words who modeled the values by which he lived: self-sufficiency, industriousness, honesty and generosity. Contributions in his memory may be made to a charity of the donor's choice.

KUSHNER

Dr. Maxwell Kushner, Ed.D. served as a teacher, principal, assistant to the District Superintendent, and Special Assistant to the Superintendent of Schools for the School District of Philadelphia. He concurrently was the co-founder of Sesame Day Camp and the Wonderkey Pre-School Learning Center in addition to being a part-time instructor at Pennsylvania State University. After his retirement to Boca Raton, Florida he was recruited by Florida Atlantic University to be an adjunct professor in the College of Education for a period of eight years teaching Educational Administration and Curriculum. Max and his wife Maxene were inseparable. He always described her as loving, caring and supportive. Their son, Brian, residing in Delray Beach, is devoted and the delight of their lives. Max credits Brian with bringing them into the technology of the computer age and enriching their experiences. The three Kushners were world-wide travelers. Nepal, the Galapagos, the Taj Mahal and The Great Wall of China were just a few of their journeys. They always shared their memorable experiences. In addition, political activities, social and educational happenings were always topics of discussion. Not only was Dr. Kushner passionate about his family, but he was also vehement about the significant involvement of the public schools in American society. He deplored the ongoing attempts to destroy the role of public schools in our diverse society. In his teachings and lectures Dr. Kushner always insisted that the public schools were the unifying agent for the establishment of national purpose and cohesion. As the essential structure of the public school is regularly shredded, the more ghettoized our nation becomes. Dr. Kushner is survived by his wife Maxene, son Brian, sister Marlene (Max) Wald, and numerous nieces and nephews. Contributions in his memory should be made to any reputable cause.

Pearl was a sparkling gem. She loved music, especially singing. She found many outlets for her creativity in art, story-telling, and crafts in addition to music. Pearl shared joy with all she met. She had a strong moral compass and was a devoted supporter of Israel, but her top commitment was always to her family. Pearl's positive influence will be passed down through the generations, but she will be greatly missed by her family and friends. Graveside funeral services were held privately. Donations in her memory may be made to Yad Leah (yadleah.org) or to a charity of the donor's choice.

SENDER

Eva Sender lived a full life for 110 years. She died peacefully after a short illness on Saturday, May 1, 2021. She enjoyed living at Lafayette Holy Redeemer and being with her many friends and staff there. Eva enjoyed ceramics, sculpting, exercising, playing tennis, travel, and bridge. Only ten years ago she was caught reading a book to improve her bridge game. She could always suggest a good book and liked us to make recommendations for her reading. She had a lively sense of humor and loved to laugh. Harold Stern, her first cousin, would come down from Connecticut and celebrate the centenarian luncheon where she was the oldest, and only resident still living independently. We would go to the Marco Polo restaurant for lunch and after that we schmoozed in her lovely decorated large apartment. Eva was very happy she got to vote in the November 2020 election! Eva was preceded in death by her beloved husband, Henry, her parents, her sister who she loved dearly and lost too early, and her cousin Bill Levine. She is survived by her cousin, Harold Stern (Sandra), her tireless and loyal friend, Stan Dezure (Susan) and many great-cousins. Eva is buried in Montefiore Cemetery in Jenkintown, Pennsylvania, next to Henry.
