DEATH NOTICES

ADELMAN

Irene P. Adelman, May 29, 2017, age 98, loving wife of the late Joseph. She was predeceased by her beloved parents Sarah and Rudolph Polya and brother, Joseph L. Polya. Irene was a resident of the Madlyn and Leonard Abramson Center for Jewish Life since 2008. In 2004 the Center honored her at its Auxiliary's annual tribute luncheon for over 35 yrs. of volunteer services dating back to when she joined the Auxiliary at the Philadelphia Geriatric Center (PAG) on the Abramson Center's former Philadelphia campus. Her volunteerism and involvement with the Auxiliary had continued until 2006, focusing in latter years on the Center's library. In 2015, Irene was once again honored by the Abramson Center Auxiliary with their first Woman of the Year award. Irene established 2 separate endowments at the Center: a Resident Luncheon Endowment Fund and an Enhanced Visitation Endowment Fund. She also endowed the Joseph L. Polya Memorial Scholarship at Abington High School in memory of her beloved brother. Irene's continual volunteer work began with the USO during World War II. Beginning in 1975, as a part of a Volunteer Research Group, she was an integral part of the York House South medical team where she handled medical and lab appointments 2 days each week for approximately 18 yrs. Also, under the auspices of the Social Services department, Irene worked with York House tenants and with residents in the Nursing Home. In past years Irene had been a devoted and active member of Beth Judah Synagogue in Logan and subsequently Melrose B'nai Israel Emanuel-El in Cheltenham. Irene is survived by nieces, nephews, great-nieces, great-nephews and friends. Contributions in her memory may be made to the Madlyn and Leonard Abramson Center for Jewish Life, 1425 Horsham Rd., North Wales, PA 19454 or a charity of donor's choice.

ADLER

Paul Adler, June 9, 2017, age 94, a month short of his 95th birthday. Paul is remembered as beloved husband of Paulina, cherished father of Esther (Greg) and Barbara (Meir), adoring grandfather of Jacob, Adam, Sam, Oren, Tali and Noa, and great-grandfather of Ella and Caden. Paul was born in Skalat (Ternopol), Poland, now an area of Western Galacia, Ukraine. At age 17, he was witness to the destruction of his town, a Jewish "shtetl" and was the only member of his immediate family to survive the Holocaust. His three younger brothers, Menachim, Leib, and Eli were massacred along with his parents in Treblinka. In 1966, he traveled to Stuttgart, Germany to testify in the trial that led to the conviction of former SS officers. Paul emigrated from Poland to Israel in 1957 and from Israel to the United States in 1962, first residing in Brooklyn, NY and for the last 48 years in Philadelphia. He owned and operated a newspaper kiosk in Center City across the street from City Hall. Paul served as Secretary of the Association of Jewish Holocaust Survivors and was awarded their Person of the Year award in 1994 in recognition of his dedication. Paul chronicled his survival for Steven Spielberg's Film and Video Archive and for Gratz College Holocaust Studies Program. Contributions in his memory may be made to American Society of Yad Vashem, 500 5th Ave., 42 fl., NY, NY 10110 or the United States Holocaust Memorial Museum, 100 Raoul Wallenberg PL SW, Washington, DC 20024.

BELL

Doris Bell, life-long Philadelphia resident, beloved mother, grandmother, great-grandmother, aunt, cousin, friend and neighbor passed away in her own home the evening of June 7, 2017 at the age of ninety six. Doris (Dora) Braverman arrived September 5, 1920, the youngest of eight children born to New York City transplants, Elizabeth Dworin, seamstress, teacher and lacemaker and electrician Harry Braverman, who wired the Vienna Opera House. It was an enlightened and lively home where everyone was drawn and welcomed. Doris married the entrepreneurial actor David Bell in 1941 and together they raised three daughters, travelled extensively and took care of many people. They were married for 56 years when her husband succumbed to cancer. Beautiful, warm and exuberant, she pulled everyone in with her song and laughter. Doris adored cooing to babies and reading to young children. Painting was a treasured hobby, and at 94. much to her pleasure and surprise, she sold a large painting! Always on the move, pretty and vivacious, she looked decades younger, even in her nineties. Doris is survived by her three daughters, Lois, Sandi and Lisa (David Baker), her two granddaughters Alix and Haley Genevieve, and her great granddaughter Mallory Davis Ricci, daughter to her late grandson, Adam Jan Perry. She was and always will be, unforgettable. A Shiva was held to honor her memory, on Sunday, June 18th. GEITNER GIVNISH FUNERAL HOME

BERNSTEIN

Sylvia Bernstein died on June 12, 2017 at the Abramson Center for Jewish Life in North Wales, PA. She was 90. She was born Sylvia Weinberg on January 28, 1927 in Philadelphia. Her father, Max, was a proud Navy veteran whose family first settled in the United States in the 1840s. Her mother, the former Rebecca Solkov, was born in Dinaburg, Russia. Sylvia spent her entire life in the Philadelphia area. She grew up on the 2600 block of S. Alder Street in South Philadelphia in the company of numerous extended family members and friends. She graduated from Southern High School and, shortly thereafter, began working for the Insurance Company of North America in its eponymous building at 1600 Arch Street, where she met her future husband, the late Albert M. "Sonny" Bernstein. They remained married for 65 years, until his death in 2011. In 1966, Sonny and Sylvia moved from Wynnefield to a house in Merion that remained in the Bernstein family until 2011. In addition to raising three children, Sylvia also founded a market research company that she owned and operated for a number of years. Above all else, Sylvia was a source of unceasing love and selfless devotion to her family. Sylvia was predeceased by two sisters, Lenora and Jeanette. She is survived by her children, Michael (Sherri), Louis (Mary) and Bonnie, and her grandchildren, Sarah Bernstein Solomon (Scott), Emily and David Bernstein, and Matthew (Aly Gibson), Paulina and Luke Marcucci. She is also survived by her great-grandson, Jerry Solomon. Contributions in her memory may be made to The Abramson Center for Jewish Life www.abramsoncenter.org/donate/ or call 215-371-1806

BERS

A life worth celebrating! Janice S. Bers, age 98, died peacefully June 1, 2017 surrounded by loving family. Preceded in death by her husband, Julian, of almost 60 years. Janice Bers' good works, successful undertakings and efforts benefitting the community are legendary. Janice's contribution to the community began in the 1930's as Camp Director at Camp Council, a summer camp for underprivileged children, and continued throughout her life. She provided volunteer leadership and fundraising to organizations including her alma mater, the University of Pennsylvania, United Way, Keneseth Israel, Jenkintown Day Nursery, and the Abington Hospital. Janice and Julian received the United Way "50 Year Award" for their deeds and contributions. At the age of 83, Janice received the "Outstanding Fundraiser of the Year" awarded by the Greater Philadelphia Chapter of the Association of Fundraising Professionals. Over 800 people gathered in the Crystal Tea Room at the Wanamaker Building in Philadelphia to deservedly honor her. Abington Hospital presented the "Muller Center's, Suzanne Roberts Senior of the Year Award" to Janice for exceptional volunteer fundraising leadership for almost half a century. And, she was the honoree at the memorable Abington Hospital, June Fete Gala at the Union League in Philadelphia which was replete with its own Mummer's Parade. However, she believed her greatest achievement was the love of her husband, family, and friends. She is survived by her children Wendy Trow-Fox and Remy Fox; Nan Bers and Harry Sears; Andrew Bers; her 3 granddaughters, and 5 great-grandchildren. Memorial Service was held on Sunday, June 4, 2017 at Keneseth Israel. Interment was in Mount Sinai Cemetery. Memorial contributions may be sent to Abington Health Foundation, 1200 Old York Rd., Abington, PA 19001; Jenkintown Day Nursery, 796 Baeder Rd., Jenkintown, PA 19046, or Keneseth Israel, 8339 Old York Rd., Elkins Park, PA 19027.

CUTLER

Leonard Stanley Cutler, a pillar of the Philadelphia business and Jewish communities died of natural causes at his Bala Cynwyd home on the morning of May 30, 2017, at the age of 93. He is survived by his wife of almost seventy years, the former Racine Saul. He is also survived by his three children, Dr. Charles Cutler, Linda Cutler and Carol Cutler as well as their spouses, Dr. Beverly Cutler and Gregg Young. Leonard had six grandchildren (Jenny Cutler, Ali Cutler, Stacey Schor, Max Young, Nathaniel Young and Lily Young) and four great grandchildren. Mr. Cutler was born in West Philadelphia to Charles and Claire Cuter in 1924. In the midst of the Great Depression Charles founded Cutler Dairy Products in what is now Society Hill, as well as Supreme Dairy in Baltimore, Maryland. In 1943 Leonard graduated from what was then known as Philadelphia Military College (now Widener College) and entered the Army Air Corp. serving with distinction in the South Pacific. Upon his honorable discharge from the service he assumed the reins of the family dairy business, renamed it Cutler Egg Products, Inc., and ultimately moved its Philadelphia headquarters to Sedgely Avenue in North Philadelphia and extended its operation into the Southeast United States as well as Central America. While business was important to Leonard Cutler, even more important was his devotion to his family and to the Jewish community of Philadelphia. He was a member of the congregation of Beth Am Israel since its founding in 1925 and, in fact, was a Bar Mitzvah in its West Philadelphia sanctuary in 1937 and again in its relocated Penn Valley sanctuary in 2007 at the age of 83. In 2015 he and his wife were honored by the Beth Am Israel congregation at its 90th anniversary celebration for his lifelong service and dedication to the Beth Am Israel community. In addition to this bond with Beth Am Israel, Leonard was also a member of Adath Israel in Merion, where he attended daily minyan until the last few months. He was a beloved husband, father, grandfather, great grandfather and friend and was an exemplar of the Greatest Generation. He will be sorely missed.

DAVIS

Edgar P. Davis, 89, devoted husband, father and grandfather, lost his battle with cancer on Monday, June 12, 2017. He passed away peacefully in the early morning hours. He is survived by his loving wife of 54 years, Selma (nee Roseman); his three children, Wendy Pollack (Ted Pollack), Sally, and Morris (Kim Liddle); and seven grandchildren: Kayla, Harrison, Josephine, Luke, Jackson, Lauren, and Brett. A natural storyteller, Edgar loved meeting new people and could quickly put anyone at ease. His kind face, gentle eyes, and childlike joy in laughter made him seem very open and accessible to anyone. He delighted in telling jokes and funny stories -- a trait that was an asset when he started a career in sales. Ultimately, he secured a marketing position with the Philadelphia Gas Works, from which he retired in 1989. After leaving PGW, he went on to become an award-winning photographer and photo-journalist. His photos appeared in the Philadelphia Inquirer, Main Line Life, and other publications. A passionate jazz fan, Edgar never tired of listening to the classic recordings that filled his younger years. Among his favorites were Jimmy Durante's "Won't You Come Home, Bill Bailey?" and Louis Armstrong's "St. James Infirmary Blues." His children and friends fondly recall his love for singing, and visitors to his bedside in recent weeks often heard him sing along with Durante and Armstrong as well as songs by Sinatra, Ellington, and more. Edgar and Selma traveled extensively, visiting Hawaii (a favorite destination), Puerto Rico, Alaska, Montana, Washington, and other locales over the years. Edgar met Selma in Atlantic City over Labor Day weekend in 1961 and they were married 14 months later. Edgar was born in Philadelphia and was a proud graduate of Central High School (Class 184) in 1945 and the University of Pennsylvania in 1949. He lived in the city until 1969, when he moved his growing family to Bala Cynwyd. Funeral Services were Wednesday June 14th at 1 p.m. at West Laurel Hill Funeral Home, Inc., 225 Belmont Ave., Bala Cynwyd, PA 19004. In lieu of flowers, the Davis family respectfully asks that donations be sent in Edgar Davis's name to a charity of your choice.

DEATH NOTICES

GERSHMAN

Revelle Gershman was born in Philadelphia to Joseph and Bessie Shambelan. She spent part of her formative years in Richmond, Virginia, and Scranton, Pennsylvania before her family settled back in Philadelphia. After graduating from Girls High in Philadelphia, she worked for the City Parks Department, rescuing a few kittens from drowning along the way. She also worked at Bell Telephone during the day to put herself through Temple University in the evening. When she needed to learn a language to graduate, at the insistence of a professor she took off for Europe in 1952 to learn French. After traveling around Europe and studying at the Sorbonne in Paris she returned to the USA, with plans to return. Her return to France was delayed when she met her husband to be, Louis, and they were married within six months. She did finally return seventeen years later, and the rest of her life was marked by repeated visits to Europe especially France and Switzerland. At the beginning of her marriage, she taught high school history despite majoring in English in college. Her teaching career came to an end as the family grew. In addition to raising three children and watching two grandchildren grow up, Revelle found time to volunteer in a variety of ways. From her active life at Main Line Reform Temple where she was president of the sisterhood and a member of the Temple board of trustees to helping work on political campaigns to her most recent work with MANNA – the Metropolitan Nutrition Network Aids Alliance – which prepares and delivers meals to people suffering from aids. She received an award for being their longest serving volunteer for her 25 years of service. Revelle's world was filled with people from all over the world and all walks of life. Her house was like an international hotel. All who came were welcomed like her children. She kept in touch with all - including a woman from her first European trip in the 1950's, who became one of her closest and dearest friends, to the new friends she made in the last few years. Revelle is survived by her three children Jo (husband Daniel), Gary and Ian and her two grandsons, Gabriel and Riley. In lieu of donations, contributions can be made in honor of Revelle Gershman to MANNA, 420 N 20th st, Phila, PA, 19130 or Spay and Save, Inc. PO Box 122, Lafayette Hill, PA, 19444.

HAUSNER

Nina Magil Hausner, on June 13, 2017. Beloved wife of the late Alan Hausner. sister of Ronnie Allen (Herb), aunt of Wendy Miller (Hal), great aunt of Paula and Jennifer Miller and cousin of Cindy Taubman (Richard). Also, daughter of Mildred and Leon Magil, granddaughter of Jennie and Charles Goldman and Rose and Myer Magil, sister of Paul (all deceased). The Cheltenham resident was flamboyant and colorful in art, dress and personality. As an artist, she experimented in many mediums. While she did printmaking, created sculpture, designed jewelry and fashioned dolls, her main focus was abstract paintings in acrylic, watercolor and montage. She flooded her work with luminous colors. Nina's goal was to stimulate and challenge her imagination as well as that of others. Creating was as important to her as breathing. In her 35 years of teaching art, primarily in the Philadelphia School System, she prized the enthusiasm reflected in the faces of her students from 5 to 85 when creativity captured their spirit. Nina's art is her legacy. She wanted people who experienced her work to smile, to be uplifted, to find their own interpretation. Her training included the Tyler School of Art where she received her B.S. and M.A., along with the Pennsylvania Academy of Fine Arts, University of the Arts, Fleischer Art Memorial, Cheltenham Art Center, Allen's Lane Art Center and the Philadelphia Museum of Art. Nina was raised in a Kosher household and was a graduate of Akiba Hebrew Academy. She was imbued with a reverence for Israel and visited 19 times. Learning piano helped arouse Nina's passion for music. Starting to attend Philadelphia Orchestra concerts as a child, she continued that practice until this year. Along with her art, Nina leaves behind her myriad collection of friends and family. Family was central in her life. The traditional family Shabbat dinners were the glue. Contributions can be sent in Nina's name to Friends of the Israel Defense Forces.

WEXLER

Ginia Davis Wexler was born and raised in Philadelphia. She died on June 7, 2017, at the age of 99. She was the oldest of five children born to Hilda and Meyer Davis. Her father, Meyer, was the conductor, and her mother was a pianist and composer. Ginia's uncle, the conductor Pierre Monteux, was married to her mother's sister. Her family received numerous visiting actors and musicians in their home and Ginia grew up surrounded by music of all kinds. In 1968, she married Morris M. Wexler, who died in 1993. She is survived by her stepson, Lewis Weller, who lives in Philadelphia, and niece, Mavis Melissa Davis, who lives in Maine, as well as other relatives. She wrote that she wants to be remembered "as an artist and a presenter of artists to children and adults. She was a communicator and a concerned human being towards all the problems of humanity. She believed in one world, no war; peace among all peoples." Gina was once asked "What gives your life its purpose and meaning?" She responded, "The beauty in music, art , nature. The kindness of people. The joy in having a pet. The smiles and joy of children. The possibility of peace in this beautiful world we inhabit. All mankind living in peace." Her career as a singer embraced opera, recital, orchestra appearances, theatre and folk music. Some of her performances have been with the Royal Belgian Opera in Brussels, the Pittsburgh and London Symphonies, "Call Me Mister" on Broadway and many New York recitals. Gina traveled around the world and collected songs in many lands. She sang in 22 languages. She performed for children as an ambassador for the U.S. Information Service under its Cultural Exchange Program in India and Africa.Ginia's maternal family has roots in Bar Harbor, and she owns a farmstead in Sullivan, Maine. It was here every summer that she organized free performances for children in her own Barn Theatre, and hired various entertainers for the enjoyment of the children. She was an original benefactor of The Grand Theater. She directed the Performing Arts for Children Series that took place at the Grand. She also sponsored scholarships for the arts for students at Sumner High School and Mountain View Middle School. She was a supporter and Board member of the Pierre Monteux School for Conductors and Orchestra Musicians in Hancock, Maine, as well as an active member of the Sullivan-Sorrento Historical Society. A Memorial Gathering will be held on Saturday, August 19, 2017 at 1 p.m. in the Pierre Monteux Forest Studio, 42 Melody Lane, in Hancock, Maine. A private funeral will be held sometime this summer in Philadelphia at the Joseph Levine and Sons Memorial Chapel, Inc. 215-942-4700, Trevose, PA.
