FRANK

Bernard Solis Frank, Rabbi Emeritus, Temple Beth Torah, died from complications related to Parkinson's Disease on March 1, 2018 in Warrington, PA. He was 85. Rabbi Bernard Solis Frank served the Philadelphia community as Rabbi for over 50 years, first at Temple Beth Or in Mt. Airy from 1962 to 1970. In 1970, Rabbi Frank became the spiritual leader of Temple Beth Torah, where he would serve as the Rabbi of that congregation until his retirement from the pulpit in 1997. He was also Past President of the Board of Rabbis of Greater Philadelphia. Prior to moving to Philadelphia, Rabbi Frank served as Assistant Rabbi at Congregation B'nai Jehuda in Kansas City, MO. Rabbi Frank was also an adjunct professor at LaSalle College from 1964 to 1982. As a member of the Department of Religious Studies, he taught an elective course on Judaism. Enrollment in his class was full for 18 consecutive years. In addition to his class, Rabbi Frank established a Jewish Student Union and Hillel Chapter on campus and served for a period as the campus chaplain. Rabbi Frank was born to Sidney and Lillian Frank in New Orleans, Louisiana on October 1, 1932 and grew up in Houston, Texas. He graduated from San Jacinto Senior High in 1951. Rabbi Frank was proud to be amongst the first classes of students at Brandeis University in Waltham, MA, studying Near Eastern and Judaic Studies and Political Science, receiving a B.A. in 1955. He went on to attend the Hebrew Union College-Jewish Institute of Religion in Cincinnati, Ohio and was ordained as a Rabbi in 1960. In 1985, he was awarded an honorary Doctor of Divinity of Hebrew Letters. While at Brandeis University, Rabbi Frank met his future wife, and love of his life, Toby Carol Pollack. The two would marry in June 1956 and would be together for 55 years, until her death on March 1st, 2013. Further exemplifying their devotion to, and true love for, each other, Rabbi Frank passed away 5 years to the day of his beloved wife Toby. He is survived by his two sons, Steven and Michael (Betsy), daughter-in-law Joan, and his four grandchildren, Jesse, Zoe, Ava and Lily. Those who wish to further his memory may do so by making a contribution to The Alzheimer's Association (www.alz.org) or The Davis Phinney Foundation for Parkinson's Research (www.davisphinneyfoundation.org)

GRAVITZ

A joyful, vibrant, loving and productive person, Jean was a skilled seamstress, tailor, fashion designer, home decorator, artist and swing dancer who died on March 18 at age 89. Jean left us not only with happy memories but also with lasting original creations. She designed and sewed three wedding gowns. One for each of her two daughters and one for her niece. She designed and sewed many dresses, gowns, suits, coats, and overcoats for her family and for herself. For her home she made hand-sewn drapes, curtains, sofa and seat covers and much, much more. In needlepoint, she created many local and Israeli outdoor scenes plus an unusual one of the "Coca Cola" symbol written in Hebrew letters. Her crowning achievement was a reproduction of the twelve Chagall windows, five in needlepoint and seven in individual colored beads that shimmer like glass. Size 18 X 23 inches, all are framed in decorative wood. A fast, light-footed swing dancer, she shared many prizes won in dance contests on cruises and at Penns Landing. In Atlantic City, at the Sands Casino lounge, Jean and her husband won dance contests judged by the Geater, Jerry Blavat, and by the professional dancer who had given actor John Travolta dance lessons for two movies. On the night before the Sands Casino closed, Jean and her husband were guests at a private party where she danced with the CEO and her husband danced with the CEO's wife. Jean was truly a real WONDER WOMAN. Jean is survived by her broken-hearted husband, Arthur, and by five children. Daughters Phyllis (Michael), Linda (Dr. Richard), sons Joel (Kim), Bob (Stephanie), Bill, and by niece Paula Gordon (Allen). She leaves 9 grandchildren and 3 great grandchildren. Friends and relatives were invited to funeral services held at Goldsteins North Chapel on March 20th. Shomrim chaplain Alan Edwards conducted the services. Burial is in Montefiore cemetery. Contributions in her memory may be made to the Philadelphia Jewish Federation and/or to the Jewish National fund for a tree to be planted in Israel in her name.

POLLACK

Sophie Pollack (nee Barsky), lifelong resident of Philadelphia, PA, age 99, passed away peacefully on January 26, 2018. Loving wife of the late Albert Pollack, devoted daughter to the late Isaac and Minnie Barsky, beloved sister of Robert (late Harriet) Barsky, the late Edith (late Irv) Weisberg, and the late Mickie Luber, and also a caring stepmother to the late Robert (late Marilyn) Pollack. She was a dedicated and loving aunt to her nephews Noah and Joshua Barsky, niece Shelia (George) Bellwoar, and extended family. She will long be remembered not only for the blessing of her many years, but the remarkable quality of her life. She worked diligently, and with great integrity, as a trusted bookkeeper at Foremost Kosher Meats, Reisman Pretzels, Queen Apparel, and local banks. In retirement, she selflessly provided love and care to her parents and sisters in their advanced years. She took great pride in her Jewish faith and was a longtime congregant of the Adath Tikvah Montefiore and Ner Zedek synagogues. She held a deep love of nature and her home was always admired for its remarkable balance of beauty and modesty. Throughout her dignified life, she made friends across generations, and then in the past decade, she was an adored resident of Paul's Run in Northeast Philadelphia, well known to residents, employees, and visitors for her friendliness, conversational ability, and sense of humor. Contributions may be made in her memory to Paul's Run, 9896 Bustleton Avenue, Philadelphia, PA 19115.

WIGRIZER

Leon G Wigrizer, beloved husband of the late Dee Wigrizer, beloved father of Steven G. Wigrizer and Fay Adams; adoring grandfather of Justin, Michael, David, Danny, Jennie and Shari; great grandfather to Hunter and Jacob; a friend to many, and example to all, died peacefully February 24, 2018 at the age of 90, in the company of his family at his home in the Hopkinson House in Philadelphia. Mr. Wigrizer was born in Lawrence, Massachusetts to Morris and Jennie Wigrizer, both of whom narrowly escaped the pogroms in the Ukraine and Soviet Russia. Growing up, he attended Arlington elementary school in Lawrence, Chauncy Hall Prep, and Northeastern College. In 1950, he graduated cum laude from Boston University School of Law. In 1951, he married to Devora (Dee) Anne Gordon of Nashua, New Hampshire, who he met while she was a student at Wellesley College. They lived together with their family in Philadelphia up until the time of her death in 2015. Following graduation, Mr. Wigrizer practiced law in Lawrence, Massachusetts until 1953, when he accepted a position as staff attorney with the IRS in Philadelphia. Over the coming years, Mr. Wigrizer quickly moved up the ranks, taking on increasing responsibilities, culminating in his appointment as Regional Counsel for the Mid-Atlantic Division. Thereafter, he was promoted to national positions in Revenue, serving as Director of the Criminal Tax Division and Deputy Chief Counsel. During his career with Revenue, he was involved in many high profile cases, including the prosecution of Congressman Edward Gallagher of New Jersey. In addition, in he was given sole responsibility for the investigation into the propriety of then-President Nixon's tax filings. In 1978, he became the Treasury Department's first Inspector General under Michael Blumenthal and William Miller in the Carter administration. He organized the office, formulated policies and procedures, and significantly impacted the Department's Integrity Programs. He worked on highly sensitive matters, and testified before Congressional subcommittees. He also took part in an investigation of family members of high ranking elected officials. He retired with the change of administrations in 1981. Following nearly thirty years of service in federal government, in 1985 Mr. Wigrizer was appointed the City of Philadelphia's first Inspector General by Mayor Wilson Goode, following a national search. He was charged with eliminating fraud, waste, abuse and corruption. Working with law enforcement, he prosecuted a number of cases on the City's behalf. During his tenure, he was responsible for nearly 400 corruption arrests and administrative job actions. When the administration changed, he became Commissioner of Licenses and Inspections for several months, during which time he initiated a number of successful prosecutions of corrupt inspectors. In 1991 he was appointed as SEPTA's first Inspector General, where he remained until his retirement in 1997. Following his long and distinguished career in government, Mr. Wigrizer was a frequent speaker and contributor on government ethics and integrity, always emphasizing the fact that the vast majority of government employees were decent and honorable men and woman, devoted to public service. During his lifetime, he was an accomplished amateur photographer, who exhibited his works world-wide, and was a frequent lecturer on advanced and novel photographic techniques. He also developed an interest in computers in the early days of their development, and was a contributor to various computer magazines. His intellectual curiosity was always a part of his personality, and drove him to excel in all he did. Contributions may be made to Historic Congregation Keshet Israel, 412 Lombard Street, Philadelphia, PA 19147.
