Born May 30, 1916, in Philadelphia to Carrie Pollack and Lucien Katzenberg, Dene attended the Oak Lane Country Day School, Simon Gratz High School, and the University of Pennsylvania. She lived all her life among her many cousins and girlfriend friends. She was the loving wife for thirty-nine years of Edgar Bernstein, who died in 1975. A homemaker and philanthropist, she was active in Fellowship House and Farm, the Jewish Family and Children's Service, and the World Affairs Council. She made numerous anonymous benefactions including many gifts of college tuition and a fund to care for Jewish HIV-AIDS patients. Her great loves were her family, her country, Tripp Lake Camp, traveling the world, painting, antiques, reading, and laughing. She was a life-long patron of the orchestra, opera, theaters, and museums of Philadelphia. The character trait she most admired was "stick-to-itiveness." The family is very grateful for the compassionate efforts of her longtime housekeeper Maria Pereira, her steadfast caregivers Beverly Brown, Tamika Whiting, Stacey Flowers, Stacey Scott, and the nurses of the Visiting Nurse Association of Greater Philadelphia. Dene will be sorely missed by her sons Alan (JoAnne) Bernstein, Philip (Leslie) Bernstein, her daughter Barbara (Irv) Berger, and Momodu Darboe of the Gambia; by her grandchildren Zachary Bernstein (with Jeri King and Rikio King), Steven (Deborah) Bernstein; Kerry (Schuyler) Fauver, Michael (Alexis) Bernstein, Anne (Matthew) Costello, Solomon Berger (with Lorraine Scolari and Kayden Hesser), and Jeremy (Monica) Berger; her great-grandchildren Hannah, Owen, and Jacob Bernstein, Philip, Oliver, and Leo Fauver, Madison and Brooke Bernstein, Bernard and Beau Costello, Lucien Berger. BOGUTZ

Helene Ross Bogutz, February 25, 2017, 79 yrs., of Jupiter, Florida and Ventnor, New Jersey lost her long, courageous battle with ovarian cancer on February 25, 2017. Helene was a true inspiration to many during the last six years (as she was through the rest of her life), as she fought with grace, dignity and strength, never giving in to the disease, through the very end. Helene is survived by her loving husband and best friend of 56 years Jerome Bogutz, children Marc (Laurie) Bogutz of Bryn Mawr, Pennsylvania and Tami Bogutz Steinberg of Voorhees, New Jersey, sister Lenore Koplin (Paul) Seidman of Henderson, Nevada, grandchildren Stephanie Bogutz, Jessica Bogutz and Ariel Steinberg and step-grandchildren Avital, Nadiv and Benjamin Steinberg. Helene was born in Philadelphia, PA on July 27, 1937. She was the daughter of the late Betty and Jack Ross. A graduate of Temple University with a B.A. in Education, Helene taught second grade in the Philadelphia school system. She later co-owned and operated a party decorating business on the Main Line in the late 70's/early 80's. Helene was active in the American Friends of Hebrew University and was honored with Jerry as Founders of Hebrew University in Jerusalem. Helene was involved in local, state and national Bar Association activities for over forty years with Jerry. She brought her energy, passion and selflessness to the many charitable and community works she was involved in over the years. Her great loves were her family and friends, traveling, painting, needlepoint, golfing, gardening, theater, reading and simply enjoying life. Helene's final thoughts remained focused on the issues of others rather than her own. Helene wanted future ovarian cancer patients to face a better outlook. Helene's focus was on early detection, something almost nonexistent today. After spending time with the Director of The Penn Ovarian Cancer Research Center (part of the Abramson Cancer Center), Helene and Jerry established the Helene Ross Bogutz Ovarian Cancer Early Detection Fund at the Abramson Cancer Center, which will be funding the first Helene Ross Bogutz Conference on early detection on October 16, 2017. The Conference will be hosted by doctors from the Abramson Cancer Center with speakers and attendees from major hospitals and research centers from around the country. Hopefully, the collaboration will accelerate progress on early detection. Helene was optimistic that new treatments, cures and prevention of ovarian cancer are achievable. Helene wanted her greatest legacy, beyond her family, to be an increased focus on this somewhat neglected disease and attract others to support the effort. Relatives and friends were invited to Services at Beth Am Temple, 2259 Central Blvd., Jupiter, Florida on Monday, February 27, 2017 at 2 p.m. The burial followed at the Star of David Cemetery of the Palm Beaches, 9321 Memorial Park Rd, West Palm Beach, Florida. The family asked that contributions in Helene's memory be made to benefit the Helene Ross Bogutz Ovarian Cancer Early Detection Fund at the Abramson Cancer Center c/o Carolyn Brown, 3535 Market Street, Suite 750, Philadelphia, PA 19104. Checks should be made out to "Trustees of the University of Pennsylvania" and mailed to: Penn Medicine Development c/o Carolyn Brown, 3535 Market Street, Ste. 750, Philadelphia, PA 19104. I.J. After her divorce Gertrude also became more involved in athletic and feminist issues. For about a decade she was involved in a group of professional female athletes bringing medical education and athletic information to countries such as Costa Rica, Guatemala and El Salvador. DOMSKY

Charles Shaw Domsky, Feb. 22, 2017. After a brave struggle with Parkinson's disease. Survived by his wife of 57 years Ellie (nee Sokolow). Father of Jason (Amy). Survived by grandson Jordan and granddaughter Alexa. Brother of Libby Feldman (Steven). He was predeceased by his son Adam. He was the owner and president of Domsky and Simon Advertising Agency until he retired to paint in 2007. Charles Domsky always knew that art was the door to the depth of his self-expression. He won 2 scholarships to the Philadelphia College of Art, where he graduated in 1959. The rigors of business prevented him from more actively pursuing his deal dream...art. That all changed when he was diagnosed with Parkinson's disease. Refusing to picture walls closing in on him, he painted an escape door and exploded through it into the next stage of his life; a stage where he would devote all of his time and energy to his artwork. Charles submitted works to "All About Art" at Moss Rehab for several years and his artwork is in public and corporate collections. Numerous pieces have been acquired by Deloitte, a major international accounting and consulting firm, Moss Rehab Hospital and Princeton University Medical Center. FELDEYFER

Sarra Feldleyfer, resident of Cherry Hill NJ since 1981, died Sunday, January 15, 2017 at Virtua Hospital in Voorhees NJ. She was 92 years old. She also left behind numerous loving relatives and friends. Sarra was born in 1924 outside of Kiev Ukraine (former USSR) and then moved to Baku Azerbaijan (USSR) in her teen years. She received a Mechanical Engineering degree from Azerbaijan State Oil and Industrial University (Baku Azerbaijan USSR). She worked for many years in Azerbaijan (USSR). She led an HVAC department in Sumgait, Azerbaijan for 5 to 10 years before mandatory retirement at age 55. After retirement in the Soviet Union, she moved to the USA in 1981. She worked at Kling Lindquist Inc. and then United Engineering/Raytheon in Philadelphia PA until she retired in 1998 at the age of 73. After retirement, she spent time helping raise her grandchildren and influenced the educational direction they take today. She used her business and engineering mind to help the community where she lived. One of her legacies is the pedestrian light crossing at Chestnut Street and Route 38 in Cherry Hill, NJ. When all crossing gaps on NJ Rt. 38 were closed, that blocked people from crossing Route 38 between Cherry Hill Mall and a circle, she got a petition together, drew up drawings to demonstrate the problem and was able to convince the local government that this crossing was essential to the community and businesses in the area. Two years later, a pedestrian crossing light was installed and Cherry Hill Township and the Freeholders of Camden County NJ honored Sarra for this project. Since 2005 this pedestrian crossing light has benefited many people in the community and will for many years to come. Contributions in memory of Sarra Feldleyfer may be made to Congregation Sons of Israel in Cherry Hill NJ www.sonsofisraelnj.com or Congregation B'nai Jacob of Phoenixville PA http://www.congbi.org.

Served as a Private in the Marine Corps during WWII from 1944 to 1945. Graduated from The Penn State University in 1946 and received Varsity Letter as a manager of the football team in 1943. Merv had a distinguished legal career specializing in all aspects of tax law, with a special emphasis on retirement benefits and, in the latter part of his career, estate planning. He was one of an increasingly small number of tax generalists and was proud of it, believing that knowledge across the entire field of taxation made him a better lawyer in each particular area. He was prodigiously active as a legal educator, serving for many years an adjunct Professor at the University of Pennsylvania Law School, where his students dubbed him "Mr. ERISA". Merv was also Planning chairman and lecturer for numerous American Law Institute - American Bar Association Continuing Legal Education programs, contributing his knowledge and talent to generations of lawyers. In 1987 he won the Rawle Award for Outstanding Contributions to Continuing Legal Education. He was a lifetime member of the American Law Institute as well as a Fellow of the American College of Trust and Estate Counsel and of the American College of Tax Counsel. He was also very active in the ABA tax section for many years headed very important and committees in the ERISA area. As best said by a former long-term client "as an attorney, he always put his client's interests first, was totally professional and honest in addition to being a brilliant attorney". Merv loved the law and practiced for 58 years from 1955 to 2013. First President of the National Museum of American Jewish History in Philadelphia from 1974 to 1978. Lover of tennis, skiing, opera, modern art, photography, history, travel, architecture and his 3 children and 7 grandchildren.

DEATH NOTICES

WURTZEL

Samuel Wurtzel, on March 8, 2017. Sam lived a purposeful and accomplished life right up to the moment he died peacefully in his adopted Kentucky home. Sam, as he was known to his family, clients and countless friends from Philadelphia to Madisonville, KY to Captiva, FL was engaging, generous and boundlessly curious. He was an entrepreneur and innovator in investing, insurance and private wealth management. Sam was born in Rosenhayn, NJ and grew up in Philadelphia. He was a proud graduate of Central High School, and a 1958 business graduate of THE Penn State. An accomplished trumpeter and aspiring jazz musician, life circumstances demanded he pursue a more practical career path. Same began working at Provident Mutual as a recruiter and training supervisor; he led the number one agency by 1963 and was eventually President of the Field Force. He established Financial Security Analysts (which served his customers for 50 years) and made Million Dollar Round table for 40 years, and Top 50 member for 25 years. Sam holds multiple degrees in advanced financial planning, and taught at both the American College of Underwriters and Temple Dental School. Having lost his father at 17, Sam went on to become the father, husband and grandfather others did not have. His deep passion for his family and the many ways he could inspire each of them toward daily self-improvement in mind, body and spirit were his life's mission. Sam was an ardent correspondent, and if you met him even once you were likely to receive a lifetime of newspaper articles and clippings perfectly suited to your interest. His mastery of vast swaths of knowledge was legend - a font of semi-useless knowledge, as he termed it. Sam is pre-deceased by his parents, Anna and William Wurtzel and his daughter Wendy, and by his beautiful wife of 45 years, Phyllis. He is survived by his sister Alma, his beloved wife Shirley Spence PhD, and her children Bob Harvey, Sean Spence, Marisa Sample and her daughters Chloe and Peyton. He is the devoted father of David Wurtzel (Muna El-Shaks), Lisa Raiola (Waterman Brown), and Michele Bokun (Scott), and loving grandfather of Austin and Stefanie Raiola, Abby and Lilly Bokun, Billy and Galena Wurtzel, Rachel Kachnycz, and Ardy Wurtzel. Contributions in his memory may be made to the Alzheimer's Association or the World Jewish Congress.
