Len and his loving wife Phyllis, who died in 2018, raised their family in Lafayette Hill, PA for 45 years. With love and attention, they raised three sons: David Kedson (Susan Shaid) currently of Bala Cynwyd, PA, Ira Kedson (Mary Rourke), currently of Wallingford, PA, and Jeff Kedson, who passed away in 1982. Len was a loving and involved grandfather to Jack, Brandon, and Benjamin Kedson, all of whom have many fond memories of adventures with their grandfather. Len is also survived by his brother- and sister-in-law Howard and Miranda Jaffe, the nieces he adored, Iris and Jessica Jaffe, and his "adopted son" David Ableman, as well as David's two sons Adam and Andrew Ableman. He was the son of Sol and Anne Kedson, who predeceased him. Len was first and foremost devoted to his family, but nevertheless had a productive and illustrious professional life. He finished high school at 15 ½, and then completed math degrees from both NYU and Columbia. He served in the Navy during the Korean Conflict, and then returned to complete engineering degrees from MIT and Stevens Institute of Technology. During the Cold War, he was the project engineer who developed classified surveillance technology for government agencies. He began the Computer Science department at Monmouth College, and was proud to have three grandsons pursuing computer science careers. After moving on to roles as CEO in two technology companies, Len ended his career as a management consultant. Len leaves behind family and friends who will miss his lively presence, his dramatic debates about American history and current events, and the energy he brought to everything that he did. We hope that he has rejoined his beloved wife, who he missed so much in the last two years, and that he is at peace – although we bet there are some lively debates going on, wherever he is.

MAGGION

Stacy Ellen (née Lish) Maggion, 55, died unexpectedly on Friday, August 28, 2020 in an accident near her home in Barnegat Light, New Jersey. She was born in Philadelphia on June 12, 1965 and lived in Pennsylvania and New Jersey throughout her life. She was preceded in death by her brother Robert (Julie) Lish. She committed her life to her family and ever-expanding network of friends. She inspired all of us with her laughter and love, her style and spirit, her vitality and vivaciousness. Stacy found goodness in all of us. Stacy was passionate about life and treasured its infinite gifts. Her interests were broad and diverse, ranging from dogs, cats and animals of every variety (even chickens, bees, hawks, ospreys and donkeys!), to pottery, painting and other art, to clamping and crabbing, to travel and, naturally, to shopping. Stacy, a Syracuse University alum, had a flair for event planning, which captivated so many clients and touched many more hearts. But, above all, her enduring gifts and greatest treasures are her family and especially her children. In view of Stacy's desire to preserve Barnegat Bay, save ospreys and cure cancer, contributions in her memory may be made to:
